

Emex Emergency & Exit light compatibility with Panasonic EBL fire alarm systems

The products consist of two parts the Emex emergency/exit light and the Panasonic fire alarm technology.

These two parts are separated with individual power supply systems and exchanging information galvanically separated using optocouplers.

The part of the products using Panasonic technology is designed, verified and using components provided by Panasonic.

The overall functionality and system verification is done by Panasonic at our test facility.

Björn Svensson
Managing Director